All:

Attached is the 214 from my water ops crew and pictures of what they found on Timbalier Island (Terrebonne Parish) and Point Fourchon (LaFourche Parish). Both of these areas had been identified as having oil from the SCAT maps. START team lead has many years of experience and he is a marine biologist, knows what to look for and where to look. Not much there, got as much sample as we could, have reservations on if it will be enough to do anything with. Crew trying to go out again today, weather is improving from the west.

Warren
